

Welcome to Science Class

Dear Parents and students,

I would like to welcome you to my Science class for this academic year 2021/2022, I have asked your children to introduce themselves to me, so it is only fair that I introduce myself to you as well.

My Name is Sara Al Hamarneh, born and raised in Jordan. I got my bachelor's degree in Physiology and Developmental Biology from Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. And I am currently going for my master's degree in Education from the University of Mary. It is very exciting! I got married and have two beautiful children, Jamil (11) and Maya (8). Here is a picture of our family.

I love baking, going to the beach, snorkeling, and most importantly, I love to teach and talk with my students and exchange knowledge and experiences. In this class, we will spend a quality time together, as I have planned for plenty of activities for you for this coming year. You will discover so many great things about the life around us and how many things actually work! We will also do so many educating and enjoyable experiments inside and outside the lab. So, prepare yourself for a beautiful journey as we get to learn Science.

And I always want you to remember:

Yours Scientifically,

Mrs. Sara Al Hamarneh

sarahamarneh@gmail.com

THINK LIKE A PROTON.
ALWAYS POSITIVE. 